

Honestly I can't believe what I am reading. People PAY for the Satellite Radio service. Its not like they are plucking it out of the airwaves for free--they should feel threatened because public radio for the most part is awful--radio stations play the same ten songs a day, there is absolutely no variety and half the time the commercials take up more air time than music or news and weather. Radio was designed for entertainment purposes--NOT for a selling tactic. with XM Satellite Radio I can listen to musica 24 hours a day 7 days a week if I want and I can listen to any type of music. I want to re-iterate my original point and say that we are PAYING customers of this service and NAB should have no say in what happens to OUR money. Thank you
